In Wanted by the FBI, New York Times bestselling author John Douglas and Mark Olshaker tell the incredible true story of Joseph Edward Duncan III, one of the FBI's Ten Most Wanted Fugitives. Duncan was a serial killer and child molester who terrorized the Pacific Northwest for years. He was finally captured in 2005 after a nationwide manhunt.

Douglas, a former FBI profiler, and Olshaker, a crime writer, provide a gripping account of Duncan's crimes and the investigation that led to his capture. They also explore the psychological makeup of a serial killer, and the devastating impact that Duncan's crimes had on his victims and their families.

Wanted by the FBI is a fascinating and disturbing look into the mind of a monster. It is a must-read for anyone interested in true crime, criminal profiling, or the psychology of violence.
